

9 Visible switches

Emergency switches, latches and other operating elements should be visually designed. Colour and contrast can be used here. A two-way voice communication system linked to the fire control center should be provided