

6 Auditory perception

Effective auditory perception can be achieved by installing induction loops. This reduces background or ambient noise and increases speech intelligibility